Information circular*

To: Members of the staff at Headquarters

From: The Assistant Secretary-General for Human Resources Management

Subject: Language and communications programme at Headquarters — 2009

1. Language courses in Arabic, Chinese, English, French, Russian and Spanish are organized in order to promote linguistic balance and multilingualism within the Secretariat and to improve the language capabilities of its staff as mandated by the General Assembly in its resolutions 2480 B (XXIII), 43/224 D and 50/11. The purpose of these courses is to provide staff members with the opportunity to learn the official languages of the Organization and to use them in their work. To further enhance the ability of staff members to perform their jobs with greater competence and to expand their linguistic skills for professional development, special courses that concentrate on a specific area of expertise, such as drafting or presentations, are offered.

2. The purpose of the present circular is to advise staff members of the registration dates and schedules for the United Nations language and communications programme at Headquarters.

I. 2009 course calendar

3. The 2009 course calendar is as follows:

(a) January 2009 term

Language classes:	5 January-27 March
End-of-term examinations:	30 March-3 April

(b) April 2009 term

Language classes:	20 April-10 July
End-of-term examinations:	13-17 July

* Expiration date of the present information circular: 31 December 2009.

08-58209 (E) 061108

(c) September 2009 term

Language classes:	7 September-27 November
End-of-term examinations:	30 November-4 December

II. Registration

4. The registration schedule for language and communications courses is as follows:

(a) Registration for the January 2009 term

27 October-21 November 2008

(b) Registration for the April 2009 term

23 February-20 March 2009

(c) Registration for the September 2009 term

15 June-10 July 2009

25-28 August 2009 (web-based registration only)

Registration procedure

5. New participants may enrol for a language course via web-based registration form or in person. During the registration period, prospective participants may register in room DC2-200, between 10 a.m. and noon, or in room S-606, on the 6th floor of the Secretariat building, between 1.30 and 3.30 p.m. Students may not register for more than two courses (one regular or accelerated course and one special course or two special courses) without the permission of the coordinator. The registration form is available at the Language and Communications Programme website (www.un.org/staffdevelopment/lcp) and may be completed and submitted by the prospective student during the registration period.

6. Those who have some prior knowledge of the language they wish to study must register for a placement test. Returning participants who have been absent from a course of study for two terms or more will be required to take a placement test in order to re-enrol in the programme.

7. Once registered, participants in the regular programme will be given an opportunity in class, before the end-of-term examination, to renew their registration for regular courses in subsequent terms. Participants are advised that, if they fail to register at that time, they may be dropped from the programme unless they have submitted to the appropriate language coordinator a written explanation from their supervisor regarding their special circumstances.

Language of study

8. Prospective participants are advised to exercise particular care in choosing the language in which they wish to take either a regular or an accelerated course, as they may register for only one such course each term and may not interrupt a course of study in one language in order to begin studying another without the prior authorization of the Staff Development Officer (Multilingualism) of the language and communications programme. Students in the programme must write to the Staff Development Officer to request such a change.

Notification of enrolment

9. Staff members and other participants whose registration is current or who have enrolled during the designated registration period should check the class lists, which will be posted on www.un.org/staffdevelopment/lcp during the week before the beginning of each term.

Cancellation of registration

10. Participants who believe that they will be unable to complete the course in which they are enrolled and wish to withdraw must do so by completing the change-of-registration form in room S-606 between 1.30 and 3.30 p.m. within the first two weeks of the term. Paying participants who cancel their registration after this two-week period will be considered participants for the term and will be charged the full fee for each course in which they have registered (i.e., no tuition fees are refunded after the second week of classes). Furthermore, they will be treated as repeaters when they register for the same course in a subsequent term. In the case of special courses, as long as a student has attended more than 75 per cent of the classes, he or she may repeat the special course as long as there is space available. A student who attends less than 75 per cent of the special course may not re-enrol the following term unless the absences were due to illness (certified) or an unplanned mission, for which an explanatory note from the supervisor is required.

11. Rates are as follows: 60-hour courses, $550; 48-hour courses, $500; 36-hour courses, $450; 30-hour courses, $400; 24-hour courses, $300; 16 to 18-hour courses, $200; 12-hour courses, $150; 6 to 8-hour courses, $100; and a repeater's fee, $100.

Repeater's fees

12. The repeater's fee of $100 is payable by students enrolled in regular, accelerated or special courses under any of the following circumstances:

(a) The student fails or does not take the end-of-term examination and wishes to repeat the course and attendance is less than 75 per cent;

(b) The student drops out/stops attending the course after the first two weeks of the term.

13. The fee may be waived if any of the following conditions are present:

(a) The student leaves a gap of two terms before returning to class;

(b) The student is absent on sick leave for three weeks or more (for which a sick-leave certificate is required);

(c) The student is sent on a mission assignment of three weeks or more which he or she was not aware of at the time of registering for class (for which a certificate is required from the supervisor);

(d) The student finds that his or her work assignments have changed in such a way as to interfere with his or her ability to attend class (for which a certificate is required from the supervisor);

(e) The student has attended more than 75 per cent of the classes, and needs to or wants to repeat the course.

This is a "one-time option only", within a one-year period.

III. Language courses

14. Three types of language courses are offered each term: regular, accelerated and special. In addition, the language and communications programme designs and conducts special job-related language courses to meet specific language needs at the request of departments.

15. In an effort to provide more flexible ways to learn languages during the implementation of the Capital Master Plan, new formats for regular and special courses will be offered in 2009. A new 10-week regular format will be piloted in January 2009. Intensive three-, six- and nine-week courses will be offered in the French programme. A distance-learning format will be offered in the Chinese programme. Other options may be added during the year.

Regular courses

16. Regular courses meet for one to two-hour periods, several times a week, depending on the level. Classes are offered at the following times:

Before work: 8.30 a.m.

Lunch hour: 12 noon, 1 p.m. and 2 p.m.

After work: 5.30 p.m. (6 p.m. during the General Assembly session)

17. Not all levels of a given language are offered at each of these times. Draft schedules, posted in rooms S-606 and DC2-202, and on the website www.un.org/staffdevelopment/lcp should be consulted at the time of registration. Every effort will be made to place registrants according to the time preferences they indicate; however, since the number of places in lunch-hour courses is limited, there is no guarantee that registrants will be given the time they have chosen.

Accelerated courses

18. Accelerated courses are offered as an intensive alternative to the regular programme, subject to demand. Classes meet five days a week from 8.30 to 9.30 a.m.

IV. Special communications skills

19. Special courses have been developed to address the need of the Organization for staff members to develop their communications skills for work-related purposes, as indicated in the report of the Secretary-General on the implementation of the strategy for the management of the Organization's human resources and other human resources management issues (A/59/263).

20. The writing skills component of the communications programme addresses the need to improve the drafting expertise of staff members whose functions require them to draft in a working language of the Organization. Writing workshops, which include courses in drafting letters and memorandums (English and French) and report writing, may take place from 3 to 5 p.m. or from 5.30 to 7.30 p.m. (6 to 8 p.m. during the General Assembly) one day a week. In addition, presentation skills courses (English and French) are offered to develop the ability of staff members to speak more effectively before groups. Special language workshops that enable participants to focus on and improve their abilities in specific skill areas are offered on a rotating basis. At the time of registration, participants may check which workshops are available in the language they wish to study.

21. For a description of these courses, staff members are requested to consult the Staff Development Programme site of the Office of Human Resources Management (www.un.org/staffdevelopment/lcp) on the United Nations Intranet under the heading "Learning Section/Staff Development Programme Descriptions" or the Staff Development Programme booklet.

V. Additional information

Lunch-hour attendance of language courses

22. Supervisors are requested to permit staff members who attend classes during their lunch hour 20 minutes for a quick meal before resuming their work.

Absenteeism

23. Participants are advised that those who fail to attend class during the first week of the term will be dropped from the class list and that their places may be allotted to persons on the waiting list unless they have informed the language coordinator in writing. Absences from class during the term should be explained in writing to the appropriate language coordinator.

Course materials

24. Participants will be informed on the first day of class of the materials that will be used during the course. Textbooks assigned for specific language courses may be available for purchase under special arrangements with vendors or in the United Nations bookshop, located in room GA-032A in the General Assembly building. Language coordinators will advise students how to obtain course materials.

End-of-term examinations

25. Examination schedules are posted during the last month of classes. Participants are advised that examinations are an integral and mandatory part of the language programme. Participants who do not sit for the end-of-term examination will be dropped from the programme unless they have submitted an adequate written explanation to the appropriate coordinator in advance of their absence.

26. Examinations are given after the last week of classes for regular and accelerated courses to determine whether a participant will move on to a higher level or repeat the course. The examinations consist of written and oral components, both of which participants must pass to be able to go on to the next level. Participants who fail a course may arrange to have a general discussion of the results of their examination by making an appointment with the appropriate language coordinator one week after the beginning of a term.

27. Participants who are prevented by compelling circumstances from taking the examination as scheduled and who wish to request a make-up examination must submit a written justification to the coordinator of the language they are studying and complete a request form.

28. Participants who choose to repeat a level irrespective of their grade on the final examination should inform their teacher accordingly at the end of the course period in order to be re-enrolled at the same level. A repeater's fee will be charged.

Language proficiency examination

29. The United Nations language proficiency examination is the official test of a staff member's knowledge of a language and may be taken both by participants who have completed the last level of a language course and by staff members who have achieved proficiency from outside sources. The application to take this examination must be made separately. Further details are available at www.un.org/exam/lpe/welcome/main.asp.

Information circular*

To: Members of the staff

From: The Assistant Secretary-General for Human Resources Management

Subject: United Nations competitive examination for statistics assistants (2009)

1. The purpose of the present information circular is to invite applications from staff members in the General Service and related categories of the Secretariat who wish to take the competitive examination for statistics assistants, in accordance with the provisions of administrative instruction ST/AI/1998/4 of 10 February 1998. The examination is also open to qualified external applicants.

2. The written part of the examination is scheduled to be held in New York in January 2009. Staff members will be advised of the precise date and location.

3. Staff members applying for the examination must, at a minimum:

(a) Have passed the United Nations administrative support assessment test (the clerical test) in English; and

(b) Have at least one year of experience in numerical data processing or working with statistics or numerical data in a computerized environment (e.g., using spreadsheets or databases). This experience may be external to the United Nations.

4. In addition to the minimum entrance criteria stipulated above, staff members who sat for a previous statistics clerk/assistant examination must have achieved a mark of at least 25 per cent on the overall score of that examination in order to be eligible to take the 2009 competitive examination for statistics assistants. Staff members who did not obtain at least 25 per cent must submit to the Board of Examiners for the statistics assistants examination a detailed description of the concrete and independently verifiable efforts made in preparation for the new examination (e.g., courses taken, transcripts, hours of study, materials used, topics studied).

5. Staff members will not be allowed to take the examination for statistics clerks/assistants more than four times within a 10-year period.

* Expiration date of the present information circular: 31 December 2009.

08-61292 (E) 251108

6. The written examination will consist of one paper covering the following:

(a) Basic knowledge of tables, graphs and charts;

(b) Logical reasoning;

(c) Simple mathematics.

7. The use of any reference material is not permitted during the written examination. Staff members must bring their own calculators. Personal computers are not allowed.

8. On the basis of the results obtained in the written examination, the Board of Examiners for statistics assistants will invite selected examinees to take a practical test on a computer to assess their knowledge of Excel (computerized spreadsheets). If successful in both the written and computer tests, examinees will be invited for a competency-based interview, which will normally take place six to eight weeks after the written component of the examination. The Board will interview each examinee to assess whether she or he possesses the competencies required for the position. The interview is an integral part of the examination. Therefore, examinees who are invited to an interview should not assume that they will be offered an assignment.

9. Examinees who successfully complete the written examination, the practical test and the interview will be placed on a reserve roster of qualified candidates from which present and future vacancies for statistics assistants at United Nations Headquarters in New York will be filled. Candidates may then be selected depending on the needs of the United Nations and the availability of posts. Vacant posts are advertised in the Galaxy system.

10. Successful candidates selected to fill vacancies will be assigned as statistics assistants for a trial period of one year, which may be extended for another year. They will be required to work in a fully computerized environment. Staff members who complete the trial period successfully and are recommended by their offices and the Office of Human Resources Management will be confirmed in their posts, provided the posts they are on are regular posts. In the case of staff members placed on temporary posts (i.e., replacement of a staff member on mission assignment), such staff members will be given priority for future placement if their performance has been judged to be fully satisfactory. Staff members who do not complete the trial period successfully will be reassigned to their posts at their previous levels or assigned to a similar post in a different area.

11. Staff members of the Secretariat who meet the conditions set out in administrative instruction ST/AI/1998/4 and the present information circular may apply by completing the attached application form and forwarding it to: United Nations competitive examination for statistics assistants, General Service and Related Categories Staffing Unit, Staffing Service, Strategic Planning and Staffing Division, Room DC1-0200, One United Nations Plaza, New York, NY 10017 by 29 December 2008. Staff members are strongly encouraged to submit their application by fax (917-367-0586) or by e-mail at the following address: statistics-exam2009@un.org. Written proof of educational qualifications obtained must be attached to the application. Incomplete applications will be returned to the staff member for completion and resubmission within the deadline for receipt of applications. Extensions for receipt of applications will not be granted.
